

NEWS/ Barneys Launches Roy Lichtenstein-Inspired Home Collection

by Rose Curiel Tue., Apr. 30, 2013

Courtesy: Barney's

Now you make your house pop with-what else?-Pop Art.

Barneys New York has just launched a home collection of punchy pieces inspired by one of the popular art movement's most beloved artists, Roy Lichtenstein.

The best part? At $28 to $295 the arty decor won't set you back as much as a Lichtenstein painting, but still offers you the opportunity to display the artist's prints in quirky cute ways.

Take his classic Drawing for Kiss II decorating a massive beach blanket or his iconic Baked Potato print found on playful place mats. And for those who can't commit to Lichstenstein decor, a handy tote bag and water bottle emblazoned with his artwork offer the perfect alternative for the pop enthusiast on the go.

But whether you want to go all out with a Lichstenstein look or not, you better act fast. Once the limited-edition collection sells out, Barneys will not replenish the pop pieces.